THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1873.

The Board of Survey on the improvement of the harbor of Washington and Georgetown have made a report, which recommends the establishment of a deep water line from Georgetown, stretching in curves along the present channel past the Long Bridge to deep water opposite Giesboro' Point, forming for the whole length a channel twenty-three feet deep. The flats from Seventeenth street to the Long property, which it is estimated can be sold for $15,000,000. The Washington Chronicle says the cost of the entire work, including grading, filling, removal of rock, and constructing bulkhead is estimated for permanent work of the first class at $6,050,000; for work some of which may be temporary at $4,112,000. If the reclaimed land be estimated even as low as 25 ets. per foot, the receipts will more than cover the largest estimate of the Board.

The Baltimore Sun says that "it is estimated that this year the number of people who are resolved to "do" Europe is about twenty-one thousand. Preparations have been made for that number by the steamship lines sailing from New York during the months indicated. Applications for berths have been making this season four weeks earlier than usual, notwithstanding that nearly all companies had raised the passenger rate considerably. The alarm caused by the recent disasters has induced many persons to abandon their intention of crossing the ocean, but it is asserted that this has only narrowed the demand for passages to the carrying capacity of the vessels; and, it is thought, if some such calamity had not occurred, enough steamers could not have been found to accommodate the multitudes who had determined to visit Europe during the coming summer."

The Georgetown (Demerara) Creole of March 26th records among the startling events in that town the suicide of G. H. Oliver, of the firm of Messrs. Sandbach, Parker & Co., one of the largest business houses in British Guiana, and agents of the New York steamship line. It appears that on the return of the head of the firm from a visit to England extensive defalcations were discovered, amounting to over three hundred thousand dollars, in which Mr. Oliver was involved. Immediately on the exposure being made Mr. Oliver committed suicide by

A rather curious statement comes through the medium of a New York Herald special from Berlin, to the effect that the Japanese Embassy has lately had, at St. Petersburg, a full conference with an eminent German professor of jurisprudence, the subject being the establishment of Christianity as the State religion of Japan, the ambassadors regarding the change as probable and favorable, but the professor argued earnestly and learnedly to dissuade them from the project, and after listening eagerly to his arguments, the embassadors expressed satisfaction with the advice.

A New York bank teller has been detected in an attempt to swindle the U. S. Treasury. He made a full confession, but begged so piteously for mcrcy that the detectives and a number of influential parties in New York united in asking Gen. Spinner to forbear prosecuting him, as he was the only support of an aged mother and sister, and that was his first offence. The young man also wrote a letter to Gen. Spinner, imploring him for mercy, and considering all the circumstances, Gen. Spinner concluded large. to take on action in the case.

The monetary situation at New York yesterday was regarded as less favorable. Notwithstanding the influx of currency and the natural tendency to easier rates at this season. money continued close, and a fraction higher was paid for call loans, the market closing at 1-16 per diem and interest. Gold was dull, and ranged from 1171 to 1172, closing at 1173. The Government purchased half a million Fivetwenty bonds at 114.95a115.38, and to-day will sell one and a-half millions gold.

The Petersburg Appeal says :- "Our motto is Virginia for anybody who will work, regardless of his antecedents or nativity. From the four points of the compass, and from all intermediate points we say let them come. And not only do we say let them come, but urge them to come. This is the feeling of the vast majority of the Virginia people. Our gates are thrown open, and our hands are extended in welcome to all comers." This is the proper states that on the 11th he was robbed by a band spirit, and the true feeling.

RAILROAD MATTERS.-Under a recent decision of the Attorney General in the Piedmont " To show the very age and body of the Times." railroad case, which involved interests to the amount of a million and a half of dollars, the district attorney has been instructed to discontinue all proceedings against the road, and to foreclose the mortgage given by it to the Confederate Government.

A dispatch from Raleigh, N. C., says: "The injunction against the Richmond and Danville railroad to restrain the company from altering the gauge of the North Carolina railroad between Greensboro' and Charlotte has been continued till May 1st upon the condition that the State give bond for $50,000, with good seeurity, to indemnify the said company for dama ges that might be sustained on or before the 1st of May; if not given by that time the injunction will be dissolved. Both parties have given notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court."

The U.S. Collector at Albany, N.Y., yesterday sold eight locomotives belonging to the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, seized by him for the non-payment of taxes. They realized $22,750, and were bought on behalf of the company. The attorney for the company protested against the sale on the ground that the tax was assessed against the New York Bridge to be filled up, and sold as re-claimed | Central Railroad Company, and therefore could not be collected of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company.

> The late act of the General Assembly in regard to Notaries Public, under which they are required to requalify and renew their bonds, makes them also conservators of the peace. If they fail to do their duty in suppressing disorder and arresting offenders, they are liable to indictment and punishment, and any citizen refusing to assist them in these duties when called on to do so will be subjected to a fine and imprisonment on conviction.

Considerable surprise having been excited in the public mind by the current rumor that "several of the commissioners appointed by the President to the Vienna Exposition had purchased their places," the Baltimore Gazette suggests that if anybody bought a commission, it might be well to ascertain who sold it and into whose pocket the money went. Let us have light.

The Lynchburg News says:- "The late speech of Charles Francis Adams before the New York Legislature, in honor of Mr. Seward is a thoroughly fanatical, sectional, and Southhating production. Yet this is the man who it was proposed should be nominated by the Cincinnati Convention and supported by the South for the Presidency."

Illinois has a new law, which is intended to prevent strikes and oppressive combinations of capital or labor. It provides severe penalties for the common methods resorted to, namely, Fort Beauregard and Bunker Hill, close by. threats, intimidation, or forcible interference | The location is an exceedingly heathly one, with the rights of employers and workmen to and the land is of the best quality. Late California papers give some fearful details of the distress caused by a failure of the rice crop in Java. Corpses of men and women, who have died of hunger, are daily found on the roadsides, and it is no rarity to see persons laying along the roads exhausted and awaiting

Since the report of the alleged purchase of commissions to the Vienna Exposition, on the part of certain gentlemen, who have hitherto borne an unblemished character, there has been no little speculation among those interested in such things to arrive at the truth of the report.

The peach crop in Delaware and Maryland, it is said, promises well. This is unusual; for about this time every year, the prospect for peaches, is invariably represented as "very gloomy''!

Gen. Butler expects to leave Washington tomorrow for his home in Massachusetts, and will then enter actively into the canvass for Governor. He is confident that he will be successful.

It is stated at the treasury that the Secretary will order the payment of the May interest without rebate, on and after the 25th instant,

From year to year it has been thought that the resumption of specie payments by the government would take place, but now this seems much further off than it did five years ago.

The exports of domestic produce from the port of New York for the past week reached the exceptionally large total of nearly seven millions of dollars.

NINE OR TEN MEN KILLED. -A correspondent of the Atchison Daily Champion, writing from Arkansas City, says a man named Thompson arrived there on the 20th instant, who of Indians, near Medicine Lodge creek, and his four companions killed. The party arrived at Recorder Hackett produced in the Court of Medicine Lodge creek, near the south line of the State, on the 8th instant. NEWS OF THE DAY.

In New York, yesterday, Mrs. Annie Hennessy, aged 26 years, wife of Geo. Hennessy, a silled her two children, George, aged three years, and Francis, aged five mouths. On returning home from work the husband found he door of the room locked, and after considerable trouble gained admission, when he found a tub standing in the centre of the room, in which the bodies of the children were lying. The mother, who, for some time, has been filicted with a religious mania, had choked the children and then roasted their bodies on a stove. She was sent to the hospital.

A dispatch from Exeter, New Hampshire, states that on Sunday night the boy Wilford L. Fitts, of Lowell, now in the cell of the Exeter jail, while in a somnambulistic state, got possession of the razor of one of the three prisoners occupying the same cell, and attempted to cut their throats. Two of the prisoners were slightly wounded before he could be secured, as he was in a raving condition, and it was some time before he could be brought to his senses. He is now carefully watched when asleep and awake.

Mr. Kearsley Carter, secretary of the Western Union Telegraph Company, at Louisville, Ky., attempted to commit suicide in that city on Friday, by shooting himself behind the right ear. He had not been to his house in the country for several days, and his wife becoming uneasy about him went to his office. During their interview the attempt was made. The wound is not considered dangerous. He is a native of Charlestown, West Virginia.

Dr. Jacob D. Thomas, of Frederick county. Md., convicted March 16, on his second trial, of manslaughter, in killing John Lloyd Belt, ir., by shooting him, October 2, 1871, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for two years. The homicide of young Belt occurred at Adamstown, Frederick county, in a street encounter, the result of a misunderstanding about a colored farm laborer.

MANASSAS. - This place has been one of the most thriving, since the war, in this part of Virginia. At the close of the war there was searcely a tenement of any kind left, except the brick mansion of Mr. Wier, which was in turn used as headquarters by both General Beauregard and General Sickles. The town now has between seventy and eighty buildings, some of which are very fine. Church privileges are good; the schools also; a good printing office here; with plenty of mechanic shops, and merchant stores, one steam mill; all presenting an air of prosperity, in the midst of a truely fine and fertile farming country. There are two hotels here; and I find the "Manassas Hotel" comfortable and pleasant. The abundant quarries here of excellent red stone, for building, &c., are a source of much gain to the owners, and an attraction to the place. There are some fine gardens here.

There are magnificent and charming views of mountain and valley scenery, including the Bull-run range. In sight of here are the early Bull-run battle-flelds; many of the fortifications are yet standing, the most prominent being town and surrounding country, and there are from smallpox. many signs of progress and enjoyment.

In sight of the village is the farm of Major McLean, on which took place the first day's fight of the Bull-run battle. He soon moved to Appomattox; and there, at his house, the terms of capitulation of Lee to Grant took place; so that he claims that the beginning and ending of the war took place at his two homes, in two counties.

This is a good fruit region, and I suggest that growers do their best to get up a good show for the Boston meeting of the National Pomological Society, and send to the Potomac fruit growers to prepare. - Cor. Rich. State

RAILROAD FROM QUANTICO TO FREDERICK CITY. - Those who profess to be familiar with the facts, have given the information that the engineers will soon be in the field, making the preparatory surveys for the location of this road. It is designed to connect Frederick City, Md., which is now in railroad communication with the coal regions of Pennsylvania, with Quantico, on the Potomac river, about twenty miles south of Alexandria.

Quantico is to give way to the more imposing name of "Potomac City," where already a handsome hotel has been erected by the capitalists who have this scheme in charge. They have purchased large tracts of land at that point, and will soon begin other buildings, as t cannot be supposed they built an expensive hotel there without meaning business.

Mr. Bangs, whose name is prominently associated with this enterprise, is represented as a gentleman of great wealth, and as being enhusiastic in the scheme to unite that splendid harbor with the coal regions of Pennsylvania, and the railroads of the North. The road is proposed to come through Loudeun county, at or near Leesburg, and, as rumor has it, to cross the Potomac on the piers of the bridge at the Point of Rocks and from thence to unite with the road at Frederick, which connects that city with Littlestown, Pennsylvania.

Direct lines of railroads will thus connect one of the finest harbors on the waters of the Chesapeake, with the anthracite coal district, and open up another short and direct outlet to the ocean for the immense trade of that region.

We are not sufficiently familiar with the views of those who have this enterprise in hand to make any plausible predictions as to the result. It looks splendid on paper, and would be a great arrangement for this section of Virginia if it be carried out. The road would pass its whole length through a most productive country, which would contribute a vast amount of trade to its support. - Leesburg Washingtonian.

THE VANDERBILT METHODIST UNIVERSITY. -On Wednesday last a conference was held in Nashville between the trustees of the Central or Vanderbilt University and the Special Committee of the City Council with reference to the location of the University, towards the establishment of which Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, it will be remembered, has donated the sum of $500,000. The question to be decided was whether the University should be built in Nashville, in the outskirts of that city, or withn a mile of the city. Bishop McTyeire said hat Mr. Vanderbilt had settled upon Na-hville as being the point in the South for the establishment of the University. It was urged upon the Committee that in a view of the advantages which would accrue to Nashville by to be in the city twenty acres would be needed, | State legislation. - Rich. A. T. Stewart, of New York.

Mr. Stewart has been suffering it is said from disease for two or three years, though it is only very lately that it has declared itself in that form. He has been a man of vigorous constitution, and such great force of will, that, in spite of his ailment, he has devoted himself strictly to the personal management of his immense business. He has not been absent until recently from his private office in his wholesale establishment, for a single day, except Sunday and when he has been out of town, for a number of years; and the fact that he is now compelled to remain in his chamber shows how very ill he must be. It has long been his habit to visit his retail store punctually at 10 o'clock every morning, and to go through every department. After that, he has shut himself up in his office at the corner of Broadway and Cham

Hardly any man in town has worked harder than Stewart; and it may be fairly said, pecuniarily speaking, that he has been rewarded for his industry, as he must now be worth fully $50,000,000. His will has long been made, and it is whispered that in it are several large bequests to charitable objects, which will surprise the great mass of people who have never regarded him as a benevolent or generous man. He has never had any children, and his direct heirs are supposed to be very few; so that one can hardly imagine what he can do with his money, unless he should leave it for some bers streets, and remained there until 5 or 6 in eleemosynary purpose. The story is again current that he has given to the city his new and splendid mansion (it is so called, though it really looks like a vast white sepulchre) to be used as an art-gallery, including his own collection of pictures and marbles. There are also rumors of large funds for the establishment of a public library a museum and hospital; but all this is mere conjecture since nobody except the lawyers, so far as known has ever seen the will. Still, there is good, reason to believe that the greater part of his property will be devoted to public charities and municipal benefit.

Stewart, like Joey Bagstock, is very tough and devilish sly, and may, after all astonish folks by an early recovery, and by continuing in business for some years longer. He is now 74, and can not, in the course of nature, live more than half a century longer.—N. Y. Ledger.

NEW YORK AND ITS CHARTERS. - During the two hundred and twenty years existence of New York city as a municipality it has had fifteen charters, including the one lately adopted by the General Assembly of that State. Of the fourteen previous charters two emanated from the Dutch Government during the time the city was known by the name of New Amsterdam; one was of English origin, necessitated by the capture of the city by the British, when its name was changed to New York; two were called into operation during the year of re-occupation by the Dutch, when the city was known as New Orange; four were granted by the presence of the institution that city should the British Government after the restoration purchase the site for the college, which would not cost more than $75,000. VIRGINIA NEWS.

Potato Bugs. - A citizen of Baltimore, who has been for several years in an agricultural district of Ohio, brings accounts of the damage done by the Colorado bug, whose ravages are each year extending further eastward. Last year, in many parts of Ohio and Indiana, these bugs were so numerous that a peck of them could be picked by a person in a single evening. If a potato top was shaken, hundreds of the bugs would drop off, and lying on the ground would feign death until they considered the danger passed, when they would rush on the potato vines again, and resume their voracious practices. This gentleman says that he knows of no insect that is as difficult to destroy as these bugs. After remaining twelve hours in alcohol they will be still alive. Some that were placed in boiled tobacco water, and left there for an entire day, were found willing to cut potato vines as soon as they were set at liberty. Paris Green, one of the most efficient of all insect poisons, has no more effect on them than soot or ashes. - Baltimore American.

STONEWALL JACKSON IN ENGLAND. - Chief Justice Cockburn, in replying to certain American arguments concerning the Geneva award, explains the state of public feeling in England during the recent civil war in this country. In performing this duty, he incidentally says:

"They [the British people] gave credit to the statesmen and warriors of the South; their cause may be right or wrong; for the higher motives ennoble political action, and all the opprobrious terms which might be heaped upon the cause in which he fell could not persuade the world that the earth beneath which Stonewall Jackson rests does not cover the remains of a patriot and a hero.

INGRATITUDE. - One of the best illustrations of the ingratitude of pardoned convicts is had in a case recently occurring in Louisiana. Gov. Warmoth pardoned a person serving out a sentence for manslaughter, but through some mistake the convict was kept in prison nearly six months after the issue of the pardon. He now brings suit against the governor for $10,000 damages, on the ground that his retention in prison was caused by the governor's negligence. Washington Star.

THE HUMANE INVENTION OF THE McCLURE'S SELF-ADJUSTING, ANTI-FRICTION BACK-CHAIN AND TRAVELLER.

Read the following testimonials to its merits Office Society for Prev. Cru. to Animals. New York, April 11, 1873 |

I have seen, and do most unqualifiedly approve of Mr. W. B. McClure's Anti-friction Chain and Traveller, for the use of cart horses whereby the severe concus-ions and continual galling incident to the present mode of harnes ing draft animals are effectually overcome. This invention should be speedily in general use. HENRY BERGH, President Alexandria, April 9, 1873. I have been using for more than four months the Self-adjusting, Anti-triction Back Chain and Traveller," and take pleasure in testifying that they are a perfect success. The saving in went of the saddle alone is worth more than the cost of the chain, and the saving in labor and suffering to the horse is mealculable. JOHN LEATHERLAND, Coal Merch't.
